DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

1. In the R1 definition, what does the “and/or terminated” add to the claim? That is, what is in “terminated” that is not already included in “substituted”? Likewise elsewhere where the term appears. The traverse is unpersuasive. Applicants state that it “adds clarity” but in fact, it detracts. Applicants state, “the substituent can be at the end of a chain.” The substituent can already be anywhere; it can already replace any H at any position, so what role does this term cover? All it presently does is imply that applicants are using some other more narrow definition of “substituted” which does not cover terminal substitution, and perhaps other substitutions as well.
2. The second branch in claim 1 is now garbled. According to the remarks on page 11 for points 8 and 12, the auxiliary base, e.g. potassium carbonate, reacts with the solvent n-Butanol to form n-butoxide. That n-butoxide is the -OR^3 . But as written in claim 1, there is no alcohol solvent, there is only the trapping agent, which is not an alcohol at all.

3. Claim 2 lacks a definition for R^3 . Applicants point to the material in the next to last line of claim 2, but that is only in the second branch of the claim. The claim explicitly states that this definition applies only in the conversion of IVA to IA. But the first branch, the conversion of IIIA to IA, has no R^3 definition.
4. The term "bulky alcohol" is indefinite. Bulkiness is a relative concept. Every alcohol has some bulk to it, even methanol. How bulky does an alcohol have to be to qualify? Is there any alcohol at all that is not covered by the definition of TOH?

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, because the specification, while being enabling for most R^4 choices does not reasonably provide enablement for when R^4 is halo-alkyl. The specification does not enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make the invention commensurate in scope with these claims.

This process operates by the displacement of the substituent X on the pyridine ring, which is a leaving group. The halo is itself a leaving group; see page 11. Therefore, the halo will itself be displaced. Halo groups are very easily displaced when attached to an alkyl.

Specification

The sentence at page 1, lines 15-16 is objected to as incorrect. Example 132 is not a cyclization, but just a displacement.

The papers filed on 9/3/02 have not been made part of the permanent records of the United States Patent and Trademark Office (Office) for this application (37 CFR 1.52(a)) because of damage from the United States Postal Service irradiation process. The above-identified papers, however, were not so damaged as to preclude the USPTO from making a legible copy of such papers. Therefore, the Office has made a copy of these papers, substituted them for the originals in the file, and stamped that copy:

COPY OF PAPERS
ORIGINALLY FILED

If applicant wants to review the accuracy of the Office's copy of such papers, applicant may either inspect the application (37 CFR 1.14(d)) or may request a copy of the Office's records of such papers (i.e., a copy of the copy made by the Office) from the Office of Public Records for the fee specified in 37 CFR 1.19(b)(4). Please do not call the Technology Center's Customer Service Center to inquiry about the completeness or accuracy of Office's copy of the above-identified papers, as the Technology Center's Customer Service Center will not be able to provide this service.

If applicant does not consider the Office's copy of such papers to be accurate, applicant must provide a copy of the above-identified papers (except for any U.S. or foreign patent documents submitted with the above-identified papers) with a statement that such copy is a complete and accurate copy of the originally submitted documents. If applicant provides such a copy of the above-identified papers and statement within THREE MONTHS of the mail date of this Office action, the Office will add the original mailroom date and use the copy provided by applicant as the permanent Office record of the above-identified papers in place of the copy made by the Office. Otherwise, the Office's copy will be used as the permanent Office record of the above-identified papers (i.e., the Office will use the copy of the above-identified papers made by the Office for examination and all other purposes). This three-month period is not extendable.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a).

Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
